

Data use Code of Conduct

Oxfordshire Community Foundation encourages others to access, use and discuss our open data. We strive towards a strong community and voluntary sector in Oxfordshire, and value the contributions and insights that can be gleaned through use of data. When doing so, we would hope the following basic Code of Conduct is observed:

Accessing our data

Much of the datasets published by Oxfordshire Community Foundation are succinct and easily available for download. When accessing our data, we request that you do not place unnecessary burden on our servers by making repeated data requests over a short period of time.

Attribution

When using our data, we request that our licence is observed. When producing any material that uses our data, please ensure an attribution to Oxfordshire Community Foundation is included.

Derivation

When making use of our data, always state any steps that were made to undertake calculations or analysis that are not present in the source.

Violations

When using Oxfordshire Community Foundation data, you must not:

- make an application that pretends to be from Oxfordshire Community Foundation organisation;
- present the data in a misleading or incorrect manner or to misrepresent or change the data;
- use the name Oxfordshire Community Foundation or the website for party political purposes;
- use the data in or to support a criminal or illicit activity;
- use the data on an application to inflame or make comments that are racist, sexist or homophobic, or which promote or incite violence or illegal activity.

Discussion

We encourage discussion of our data, and the uses. In doing so, particularly in our online forums, we request you are respectful of others.

Feedback

If you spot any mistakes, errors or points for clarification, please feedback via our designated channels. We also encourage requests and ideas for new data that Oxfordshire Community Foundation may publish.
